DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is in response to the request for reconsideration filed 15 September 2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1-3,5-10,12-15 and 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Reeh et al. (U.S. Patent 6,812,500).

Reeh discloses a light radiating semiconductor device (Fig. 3) that contains a semiconductor chip with a transparent plastic window portion of the housing, a protective coating on the window portion permitting transmission of light of a wavelength of around 400 nanometers through the window portion while protecting the window portion from deterioration by produced ozone which is produced by the light of a wavelength of around 400 nanometers and an optical detector (light sensitive device) (1) in the package, where the light that enters is in the range of 400-780 nanometers (Column 5, lines 18-27), where the optical detector and package are an optical reader in a optical storage system

The plastic window is clear epoxy mold compound; the protective coating is silicone oxide (Column 4, lines 10-15 and Column 14, lines 29-40)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4, 11 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Reeh.

Reeh discloses all the limitations except for the thickness of the protective coating being  $\frac{1}{4}$  to  $\frac{1}{2}$  the wavelength of light. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have the thickness of the protective coating to be  $\frac{1}{4}$  to  $\frac{1}{2}$  the wavelength of light, since it has been held that where the general condition of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233. (1955)

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 15 September 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that the Reeh reference does not disclose a protective coating on the window portion that permits transmission of light, this is erroneous since as seen in Fig. 3 a protective coating (4) is formed over window which is comprises silicone oxide and is formed to transmit light. (Column 6, lines 18-28 and Column 14, lines 35-40) Since layer (4) is formed over the window portion and permits the transmission of light and is formed of the material silicone oxide as claimed then it structurally is the same as the claimed invention and therefore is a protective coating. Therefore the rejection stands.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
